Two men and another woman are seated around the table, looking at the document. The setting appears to be a modern office with large windows and a plant in the background.

Certification of Your Compliance Management System

Product Sheet ISO 37301

With ongoing globalization and the increasing need for responsible corporate governance, the necessity for a robust and effective Compliance Management System (CMS) is becoming more important than ever. By obtaining ISO 37301 certification, you not only demonstrate that you have implemented a compliance program tailored to the needs of your organization but also showcase a commitment to sustainable, responsible, and ethical corporate governance.

What ISO 37301 stands for

The internationally recognized standard defines guidelines for the planning, implementation, and monitoring of compliance management within your company. A CMS based on ISO 37301 follows the well-known PDCA (Plan-Do-Check-Act) cycle from ISO 9001, simplifying the holistic management of your compliance processes.

Effective implementation helps identify and understand actual and potential non-compliant behavior and respond appropriately. In the context of sustainability, ISO 37301 serves as a key mechanism for companies to emphasize their commitment to ethical corporate governance and long-term sustainability.

What ISO 37301 offers you

By implementing and certifying your Compliance Management System according to ISO 37301, you benefit from the following advantages:

- ▶ Security and continuity in business operations
- ▶ Reduce liability risks with an effective CMS
- ▶ Early identification and management of compliance risks
- ▶ Building trust with business partners
- ▶ Consideration of sustainability aspects and compliance with sustainability reporting requirements
- ▶ High compatibility with other management standards, such as the classic ISO 9001, ISO 22301, and ISO 27001
