

On-Site EHS Support

Environment, Health, and Safety expertise at the scale and scope you need

Do you have the right safety staff, with the right qualifications, in the right location?

Unexpected vacancies, special projects, specific regulatory requirements or compliance challenges, business growth or consolidation—any of these can trigger the need for experienced on-site EHS support. DEKRA’s EHS consultants can help, bringing deep knowledge and broad cross-industry experience to fit your needs and schedule.

DEKRA’s on-site EHS consultants support all aspects of Environment, Health, and Safety programs. They help you ensure regulatory compliance, conduct risk assessments, provide safety training, investigate incidents, develop emergency plans, manage environmental initiatives, perform audits, maintain records, and promote a culture of safety.

Your employees and departments will have a collaborative and highly knowledgeable specialist available face-to-face or virtually.
