

Revitalizing Behavior-Based Safety Programs

Reboot, revamp, or ramp up organizational safety

Time-tested, field-proven BBS for the real world right now.

As workforce turnover and shortages, supply chain issues, and regulatory and economic shifts have disrupted the workplace, safety has also been disrupted. DEKRA can help you reverse this harmful ripple effect using behavior-based safety to create and sustain a safe workplace.

Getting safety back on track is essential, but the “how” can look different for different companies. We help you bridge that gap.

We'll work with you to analyze your current needs, tailor an efficient solution, and provide the right level of implementation support and training based on your available resources, knowledge base, desired timeline, and business environment. Our state-of-the-art digital technology, Adaptive Suite, is built to support BBS programs and sustain the impact.

Discover the DEKRA Difference

Whether you are new to BBS, experiencing a lapse in applying the processes or looking to optimize your approach, our experts provide guidance grounded in research and practical for today's complex workplaces.

BBS Revitalization

Reduces opportunities for injuries and shows workers you value their well-being.

Puts workers in control—helping them recognize exposures and remove or remediate them.

Makes in-house safety programs more efficient and effective.

Leverages technology to manage processes, measure effectiveness, and sustain positive changes.

Generates positive return on investment by reducing safety incidents, improving operational efficiency, and ensuring compliance.

Fosters a culture of continuous learning and improvement.

In fact, DEKRA pioneered a science-based approach to BBS/EHS with our Behavioral Accident Prevention Process® (BAPP®).

Let's discuss your needs and develop a proven path forward to make a positive difference in the well-being of your workforce and the overall workplace.

Your Trusted Advisor

DEKRA has decades of experience partnering with organizations across the globe to help them achieve and sustain outstanding safety performance. We dig deep to understand your organizational strengths, challenges, and desired outcomes, then work alongside you to enable your success.
