

PRODUCT SHEET ESG ASSESSMENT FOR REPAIR SHOPS

ESG Principles Profitable to Your Business

Environmental, social and governance (ESG) principles are becoming more important for businesses of all sizes and sectors. As a repair shop owner, you can adapt ESG principles to reduce waste and emissions, protect employees in the workplace, save money and positively engage with your customers and community. DEKRA ESG Assessment helps you set goals, develop an action plan, implement best practices and evaluate your sustainability strategy to improve your environmental and social impact, ensure regulatory compliance and enhance your reputation for a stronger, more competitive and profitable business.

We support repair shops operating around the world in efforts to implement, manage and expand ESG principles and policies protecting the environment and society while following accepted governmental laws and industry standard requirements. With ESG aspects of a single company as well as the larger industrial sector taking on weighted importance as criteria for choosing recipients of both private and public investment, repair shops operating in the strictly regulated automotive sector are challenged to adapt ESG principles throughout their business. Modern patrons selecting or pledging loyalty to a reliable repair shop demand green products sourced and manufactured in accordance with environmental policy and workplace safety ethics. DEKRA auditors with extensive experience and regulatory expertise relevant to repair shops servicing the automotive industry, insurance providers and consumers at large provide the ESG assessment you need to distinguish your shop as capable, competitive and compliant.
